

TalentPrism-25

A 75-Item Strengths Assessment Across Positive, Organizational,
Industrial, Cognitive & Behavioral Psychology

25 Original Strength Themes · 5 Psychology Domains · 75 Statements

Includes: Full Questionnaire · Scoring Guide · Strengths Wheel · 25 Insight Cards

An original framework inspired by concepts in positive, organizational, industrial, and cognitive-behavioral psychology. Not affiliated with, endorsed by, or a substitute for Gallup's CliftonStrengths® assessment.

About This Assessment

TalentPrism-25 is a self-report strengths questionnaire built from five psychological lenses: positive, organizational, industrial/work, cognitive, and behavioral psychology. It groups 75 statements into 25 distinct strength themes, each given its own original, ownable name — built for personal reflection, team workshops, and leadership conversations.

This is a face-valid self-reflection tool, not a psychometrically normed instrument. Treat your results as structured insight for conversation and self-awareness — not a certified psychological assessment.

How to Take It

Rate each of the 75 statements on how true it is of you in general — not how you wish you were. Circle or note one number per statement. Answer quickly; first-instinct responses tend to reflect your actual tendencies better than overly deliberated ones.

1	2	3	4	5
Strongly Disagree	Disagree	Neutral / Sometimes	Agree	Strongly Agree

What's Inside

The Questionnaire — All 75 statements, organized by domain and theme, with a 1–5 rating scale for each.

Scoring & Interpretation Guide — How to total your scores per theme and classify each as a Dominant Strength, Supporting Strength, or Growth Area.

The Strengths Wheel — A visual map of all 25 themes across the 5 domains — mark your top 5 once you've scored your results.

25 Insight Cards — One page-ready card per theme: definition, how it shows up, and how to partner with someone who has it.

The Questionnaire

75 statements across 25 themes and 5 domains. Rate each from 1 (Strongly Disagree) to 5 (Strongly Agree).

POSITIVE PSYCHOLOGY

Well-being, outlook, and engagement with life and work.

1 Horizon

You expect good outcomes ahead, even when circumstances are uncertain.

1. I generally expect good outcomes, even when circumstances are uncertain.	1	2	3	4	5
2. When faced with a setback, I quickly start looking for the silver lining.	1	2	3	4	5
3. I find it easy to stay hopeful about the future.	1	2	3	4	5

2 Valuer

You notice and openly honor what's good around you.

4. I regularly notice and value the good things in my life and work.	1	2	3	4	5
5. I make a habit of acknowledging others' contributions.	1	2	3	4	5
6. I feel a strong sense of appreciation for opportunities that come my way.	1	2	3	4	5

3 Seeker

You chase new knowledge for its own sake.

7. I actively seek out new knowledge, even outside my immediate responsibilities.	1	2	3	4	5
8. I enjoy exploring how things work at a deeper level.	1	2	3	4	5
9. I look forward to learning something new almost every day.	1	2	3	4	5

4 Spark

You bring visible energy and enthusiasm into any room.

10. I approach my work and projects with energy and enthusiasm.	1	2	3	4	5
11. Others often notice my enthusiasm rubbing off on them.	1	2	3	4	5
12. I rarely feel drained by tasks that genuinely interest me, no matter how long they take.	1	2	3	4	5

ORGANIZATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

How you relate to, influence, and move with other people.

5 Helm*You naturally take charge and set direction for others.*

13. People often look to me to take charge when a decision needs to be made.	1	2	3	4	5
14. I can rally a group around a shared goal without much difficulty.	1	2	3	4	5
15. I feel comfortable setting direction for others, even under pressure.	1	2	3	4	5

6 Weaver*You bind a group into one functioning team.*

16. I genuinely enjoy working with others to accomplish a shared outcome.	1	2	3	4	5
17. I adjust my own approach to help a team succeed as a whole.	1	2	3	4	5
18. I find satisfaction in supporting a teammate's success as much as my own.	1	2	3	4	5

7 Voice*You make complex ideas land clearly with any audience.*

19. I can explain complex ideas in ways that are easy for others to understand.	1	2	3	4	5
20. I am comfortable presenting my thoughts to a group, large or small.	1	2	3	4	5
21. People tell me I express myself clearly and persuasively.	1	2	3	4	5

8 Bridge*You sense tension early and close the gap between people.*

22. I naturally notice tension in a group and look for ways to ease it.	1	2	3	4	5
23. I try to find common ground rather than take sides in a disagreement.	1	2	3	4	5
24. Others often come to me to help mediate disputes.	1	2	3	4	5

22 Resonator*You feel what others feel before they say it.*

64. I can sense how someone is feeling even before they say anything.	1	2	3	4	5
65. I find it easy to see a situation from another person's perspective.	1	2	3	4	5
66. People often say I "just get" what they're going through.	1	2	3	4	5

23 Cultivator*You spot and grow potential in the people around you.*

67. I notice small signs of potential or improvement in others before they notice it themselves.	1 2 3 4 5
68. I get satisfaction from helping someone else grow or succeed.	1 2 3 4 5
69. I invest time mentoring or coaching others, even without being asked.	1 2 3 4 5

INDUSTRIAL/WORK PSYCHOLOGY

How you perform, deliver, and hold steady under work conditions.

9 Driver*You feel an internal push to accomplish something meaningful every day.*

25. I feel a strong internal push to accomplish something meaningful every day.	1 2 3 4 5
26. I set demanding personal targets and work hard to hit them.	1 2 3 4 5
27. Completing a task well gives me a deep sense of satisfaction.	1 2 3 4 5

10 Anchor*You are the person others can count on to deliver, on time, every time.*

28. I follow through on commitments even when no one is checking on me.	1 2 3 4 5
29. I prefer to have clear structure and routines in my work.	1 2 3 4 5
30. People consider me dependable because I deliver what I promise, on time.	1 2 3 4 5

11 Flex*You bend without breaking when plans or conditions shift.*

31. I adjust quickly when plans or priorities shift unexpectedly.	1 2 3 4 5
32. I stay effective even when working conditions become unpredictable.	1 2 3 4 5
33. I see change as an opportunity rather than a threat.	1 2 3 4 5

18 Steward*You treat outcomes as personally yours to protect, whether or not it's your job.*

52. I feel a strong sense of ownership over the outcomes of tasks I take on, even outside my formal role.	1 2 3 4 5
53. I hold myself accountable for mistakes rather than deflecting blame.	1 2 3 4 5
54. When I say I'll do something, I feel psychologically obligated to see it through.	1 2 3 4 5

19 Fixer*You're drawn to diagnosing and repairing what's broken.*

55. I'm drawn to diagnosing what's wrong with a broken process or system.	1 2 3 4 5
56. I get genuine satisfaction from fixing something that others have given up on.	1 2 3 4 5
57. I can usually identify the root cause of a recurring problem.	1 2 3 4 5

COGNITIVE PSYCHOLOGY

How you think, reason, and generate ideas.

12 Prism*You break complex problems into clear, logical parts.*

34. I like to break down complex problems into smaller, logical parts.	1 2 3 4 5
35. I naturally question assumptions and look for supporting evidence.	1 2 3 4 5
36. I feel most confident in decisions after I've carefully examined the data.	1 2 3 4 5

13 Mapper*You see how the moving pieces of a system connect and where they lead.*

37. I can usually see how different parts of a system affect each other.	1 2 3 4 5
38. I enjoy planning several steps ahead rather than reacting in the moment.	1 2 3 4 5
39. I often spot patterns or trends that others miss.	1 2 3 4 5

14 Forge*You build original solutions rather than reach for the obvious one.*

40. I enjoy coming up with original solutions to difficult problems.	1	2	3	4	5
41. I can generate multiple possible approaches before settling on one.	1	2	3	4	5
42. I like experimenting with unconventional ideas, even if they might fail.	1	2	3	4	5

24 Visionary*You picture what doesn't exist yet, years before others can see it.*

70. I frequently imagine how things could look years from now.	1	2	3	4	5
71. I enjoy painting a picture of future possibilities for others.	1	2	3	4	5
72. Long-range vision comes more naturally to me than short-term details.	1	2	3	4	5

25 Archivist*You collect and connect information others overlook.*

73. I like collecting a wide range of information before forming a conclusion.	1	2	3	4	5
74. I enjoy hunting down facts, resources, or references relevant to a topic.	1	2	3	4	5
75. I retain and connect odd pieces of information that later turn out to be useful.	1	2	3	4	5

BEHAVIORAL PSYCHOLOGY

How you self-regulate, initiate, and persist over time.

15 Steady*You stay composed and think clearly when pressure rises.*

43. I stay composed and think clearly under stress.	1	2	3	4	5
44. I can manage my emotions effectively during setbacks.	1	2	3	4	5
45. I bounce back quickly after a disappointment or failure.	1	2	3	4	5

16 Igniter*You move on a problem before anyone asks you to.*

46. I take action on problems before being asked to.	1	2	3	4	5
47. I look for opportunities to improve things without waiting for instructions.	1	2	3	4	5
48. I tend to start tasks early rather than waiting until the last moment.	1	2	3	4	5

17 Grit*You keep pushing toward a goal long after motivation fades.*

49. I keep working toward a goal even when progress is slow.	1	2	3	4	5
50. I rarely give up on something I've decided is important.	1	2	3	4	5
51. I stay focused on long-term objectives despite short-term distractions.	1	2	3	4	5

20 Catalyst*You turn talk into action, fast.*

58. I prefer to start acting on an idea rather than analyze it endlessly.	1	2	3	4	5
59. I often push a group from discussion into action.	1	2	3	4	5
60. I get impatient when plans stay theoretical for too long.	1	2	3	4	5

21 Contender*You measure yourself against others and want to come out ahead.*

61. I naturally compare my performance against others and want to come out ahead.	1	2	3	4	5
62. Competition energizes me rather than stresses me.	1	2	3	4	5
63. Winning or ranking well matters to me, even in informal situations.	1	2	3	4	5

Scoring & Interpretation Guide

For each theme, add up your ratings on its 3 statements (range: 3–15) and write the total in the Score column below.

Score Range	Classification	What It Means
13–15	Dominant Strength	A core, highly consistent strength — likely one of your natural go-to talents.
9–12	Supporting Strength	A capable, situational strength you can draw on reliably.
3–8	Growth Area	Not a natural default — an area to build deliberately or delegate.

Per-Theme Score Sheet

Positive Psychology

#	Theme	Score (3–15)	Classification
1	Horizon
2	Valuer
3	Seeker
4	Spark

Organizational Psychology

#	Theme	Score (3–15)	Classification
5	Helm
6	Weaver
7	Voice
8	Bridge
22	Resonator
23	Cultivator

Industrial/Work Psychology

#	Theme	Score (3–15)	Classification
9	Driver
10	Anchor
11	Flex
18	Steward
19	Fixer

Cognitive Psychology

#	Theme	Score (3–15)	Classification
12	Prism
13	Mapper
14	Forge
24	Visionary
25	Archivist

Behavioral Psychology

#	Theme	Score (3–15)	Classification
15	Steady
16	Igniter
17	Grit
20	Catalyst
21	Contender

Finding Your Top Strengths

Step 1 — Rank: Order all 25 theme scores from highest to lowest.

Step 2 — Identify Your Top 5: Your five highest-scoring themes are your Signature Strengths — the talents most likely to show up across situations.

Step 3 — Compute Domain Averages: Average the scores of all themes within each of the 5 domains to see which psychological domain you lean on most.

Step 4 — Mark the Wheel: Turn the page and circle or shade your Top 5 themes on the Strengths Wheel for a one-glance visual summary.

Your Strengths Wheel

All 25 themes, arranged by domain. Once you've scored your questionnaire, circle or shade your Top 5 Signature Strengths directly on this wheel.

Positive
Psychology

Organizational
Psychology

Industrial/Work
Psychology

Cognitive Psychology

Behavioral
Psychology

Insight Cards

One card per theme — what it looks like when it shows up, and how to work well with someone who has it as a strength.

1

Horizon

POSITIVE PSYCHOLOGY

You expect good outcomes ahead, even when circumstances are uncertain.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You default to hope even when the data is incomplete.
- Setbacks read as temporary, not permanent.
- You're often the one who says "we'll figure it out" first.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A HORIZON

- Pair a Horizon with grounded planners who track downside risk.
- Don't mistake their hope for denial — ask what they see that others don't.
- Let them speak first in low-morale moments.

2

Valuer

POSITIVE PSYCHOLOGY

You notice and openly honor what's good around you.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You notice contributions others miss.
- You say thank you specifically, not generically.
- You keep a mental (or literal) log of good things that happened.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A VALUER

- Tell a Valuer explicitly when their recognition mattered.
- Loop them into recognition programs.
- Don't dismiss their appreciation as just being nice — it's genuine attention to what's working.

3

Seeker

POSITIVE PSYCHOLOGY

You chase new knowledge for its own sake.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You read, watch, or ask beyond what's required.
- You get bored fast without new input.
- You connect unrelated fields naturally.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A SEEKER

- Give a Seeker room to go down a rabbit hole before demanding an answer.
- Feed them varied problems, not repetitive ones.
- Don't be surprised if they know something adjacent that turns out useful.

4

Spark

POSITIVE PSYCHOLOGY

You bring visible energy and enthusiasm into any room.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- Your energy is visible and contagious.
- You get more animated, not more tired, discussing something you care about.
- Low-energy rooms bother you.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A SPARK

- Use a Spark to open meetings or kick off new initiatives.
- Don't schedule them for repetitive, low-stimulation work without breaks.
- Give them variety to sustain output.

5

Helm

ORGANIZATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

You naturally take charge and set direction for others.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You step into the vacuum when no one else will decide.
- You're comfortable being visibly accountable.
- You set direction under pressure.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A HELM

- Give a Helm real decision rights, not just responsibility.
- Challenge their direction privately, not in front of the group.
- Don't confuse their directness for not caring what others think.

6

Weaver

ORGANIZATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

You bind a group into one functioning team.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You adjust your role to whatever the team needs, not just what you prefer.
- You notice who's left out of the loop.
- Team wins feel as good as individual ones.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A WEAVER

- Loop a Weaver in early on team formation, not after.
- Ask them who's struggling — they usually know.
- Give them credit publicly; they rarely claim it themselves.

7

Voice

ORGANIZATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

You make complex ideas land clearly with any audience.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You simplify without dumbing down.
- You read the room and adjust delivery.
- People remember what you said longer than what others said.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A VOICE

- Use a Voice to translate technical work for non-technical stakeholders.
- Give them the floor in high-stakes presentations.
- Don't over-script them — they're better improvising within a clear message.

8

Bridge

ORGANIZATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

You sense tension early and close the gap between people.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You notice friction before it becomes conflict.
- You look for the third option instead of picking sides.
- People quietly bring you their disputes.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A BRIDGE

- Bring a Bridge into disagreements early, not after they've escalated.
- Don't ask them to "just pick a side" — that's not how they solve things.
- Protect their neutrality; it's their value.

22

Resonator

ORGANIZATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

You feel what others feel before they say it.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You pick up emotional undercurrents in a room instantly.
- You adjust your tone before anyone asks.
- You remember how people felt, not just what they said.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A RESONATOR

- Debrief a Resonator after hard conversations — they absorbed more than they show.
- Don't assume their quiet is disengagement; it's often processing.
- Use them to gut-check team morale.

23

Cultivator

ORGANIZATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

You spot and grow potential in the people around you.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You spot potential before it's obvious.
- You invest time in someone's growth without being asked.
- Their success feels like your win.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A CULTIVATOR

- Give a Cultivator mentees or juniors to develop — it's fuel, not a distraction.
- Ask them who on the team is under-leveraged.
- Don't rush their process; growth on their timeline compounds.

9

Driver

INDUSTRIAL/WORK PSYCHOLOGY

You feel an internal push to accomplish something meaningful every day.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You feel restless without a target to chase.
- Finishing something well is its own reward.
- Idle time in a project frustrates you.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A DRIVER

- Give a Driver a visible finish line, not just an open-ended task.
- Don't over-manage their pace; they self-regulate.
- Recognize completed milestones specifically, not just effort.

10

Anchor

INDUSTRIAL/WORK PSYCHOLOGY

You are the person others can count on to deliver, on time, every time.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You do what you said you'd do, without reminders.
- You like clear structure and predictable routines.
- People build plans around your reliability.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH AN ANCHOR

- Give an Anchor clear expectations up front — ambiguity costs them more than others.
- Don't ask them to "wing it" repeatedly.
- Trust their word as their bond; they rarely overpromise.

11

Flex

INDUSTRIAL/WORK PSYCHOLOGY

*You bend without breaking when plans or conditions shift.HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You stay functional when plans change last-minute.
- Unpredictability doesn't rattle you the way it does others.
- You treat disruption as a variable, not a crisis.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A FLEX

- Put a Flex on the front line of ambiguous, fast-changing situations.
- Don't lock them into rigid long-term plans; they thrive with room to adjust.
- Lean on them when a project's scope shifts mid-stream.

18

Steward

INDUSTRIAL/WORK PSYCHOLOGY

*You treat outcomes as personally yours to protect, whether or not it's your job.HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You treat outcomes as personally yours, even outside your formal role.
- You own mistakes rather than deflect.
- Your word creates real internal obligation.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A STEWARD

- Give a Steward real ownership, not just tasks.
- Don't over-explain accountability to them — they already feel it.
- Protect them from burnout, since they rarely say no to responsibility.

19

Fixer

INDUSTRIAL/WORK PSYCHOLOGY

*You're drawn to diagnosing and repairing what's broken.HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You're drawn to what's broken, not what's already working.
- You enjoy root-cause diagnosis more than surface patches.
- "Unfixable" is a challenge, not a stop sign.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A FIXER

- Bring a Fixer in when something recurring keeps failing.
- Give them freedom to dig deeper than the obvious symptom.
- Don't rush them to a quick patch if the real issue hasn't surfaced.

12

Prism

COGNITIVE PSYCHOLOGY

You break complex problems into clear, logical parts.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You break a tangled problem into clean, separable parts.
- You ask for evidence before accepting a claim.
- You're most confident after you've actually checked the data.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A PRISM

- Give a Prism time before a decision, not just a deadline.
- Bring them your assumptions to pressure-test.
- Don't take their questions as doubt in you — it's how they build confidence.

13

Mapper

COGNITIVE PSYCHOLOGY

You see how the moving pieces of a system connect and where they lead.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You see how one change ripples through a whole system.
- You plan several moves ahead rather than react in the moment.
- You spot patterns before they're obvious to anyone else.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A MAPPER

- Loop a Mapper in during planning, not just execution.
- Ask them “what happens three steps from now” before committing.
- Don't dismiss their early warnings as overthinking.

14

Forge

COGNITIVE PSYCHOLOGY

You build original solutions rather than reach for the obvious one.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You reach for an original solution before the obvious one.
- You enjoy generating several options, not settling for the first.
- You're willing to try something that might fail.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A FORGE

- Give a Forge unstructured time to explore before locking a solution.
- Don't shoot down early, rough ideas — let them iterate.
- Pair them with an Anchor or Steward to execute what they generate.

24

Visionary

COGNITIVE PSYCHOLOGY

You picture what doesn't exist yet, years before others can see it.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You picture what something could look like years out.
- You paint that picture vividly enough that others can see it too.
- Day-to-day details interest you less than where it's headed.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A VISIONARY

- Use a Visionary to set direction, not manage execution details.
- Pair them with a Mapper or Anchor to translate vision into steps.
- Give them room to describe the "why" before the "how."

25

Archivist

COGNITIVE PSYCHOLOGY

You collect and connect information others overlook.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You collect information long before you know you'll need it.
- You enjoy the hunt for facts, references, or resources.
- You connect odd pieces of information others forgot they mentioned.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH AN ARCHIVIST

- Ask an Archivist for background before a decision — they likely already have it.
- Give them time to gather before demanding a synthesis.
- Don't mistake their information-gathering for stalling.

15

Steady

BEHAVIORAL PSYCHOLOGY

You stay composed and think clearly when pressure rises.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You stay clear-headed when everyone else is reacting.
- You manage your own emotional state deliberately, not by luck.
- Setbacks don't derail your thinking for long.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A STEADY

- Put a Steady in the room during a crisis, not after.
- Ask them to talk through their reasoning under pressure — others calm down by proxy.
- Don't mistake their calm for not caring.

16

Igniter

BEHAVIORAL PSYCHOLOGY

*You move on a problem before anyone asks you to.HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You act before being asked.
- You spot and start fixing things nobody assigned you.
- You'd rather start early and adjust than wait for perfect information.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH AN IGNITER

- Give an Igniter the green light early, not after a long approval chain.
- Don't hand them a finished plan — give them the gap and let them start.
- Check in on direction, not permission.

17

Grit

BEHAVIORAL PSYCHOLOGY

*You keep pushing toward a goal long after motivation fades.HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You keep working when progress is slow or invisible.
- You don't quit on something you've decided matters.
- Short-term setbacks don't change your long-term commitment.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A GRIT

- Give Grit long-horizon goals, not just quick wins.
- Check in on their energy, not their commitment — that rarely wavers.
- Don't rescue them too early from a hard problem; they usually want to finish it themselves.

20

Catalyst

BEHAVIORAL PSYCHOLOGY

*You turn talk into action, fast.HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You push a group from talking into doing.
- Delayed action frustrates you more than imperfect action.
- You'd rather adjust mid-flight than wait for full certainty.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A CATALYST

- Use a Catalyst to break analysis paralysis in a group.
- Give them a clear boundary so their speed doesn't outrun the plan.
- Pair them with a Prism or Mapper to catch what speed might miss.

21

Contender

BEHAVIORAL PSYCHOLOGY

You measure yourself against others and want to come out ahead.

HOW YOU SHOW UP

- You track how you're doing against others, not just against your own bar.
- Competition energizes rather than stresses you.
- Ranking or winning matters even informally.

HOW TO PARTNER WITH A CONTENDER

- Give a Contender visible benchmarks or leaderboards; they'll self-motivate.
- Channel their competitiveness toward shared team wins, not just individual ones.
- Don't remove all comparison — it's genuine fuel for them, not ego.

About the Framework & Trademark Notice

TalentPrism-25 is an original, independently developed strengths framework. Its 25 theme names (Horizon, Valuer, Seeker, Spark, Helm, Weaver, Voice, Bridge, Driver, Anchor, Flex, Prism, Mapper, Forge, Steady, Igniter, Grit, Steward, Fixer, Catalyst, Contender, Resonator, Cultivator, Visionary, and Archivist) are original terms created for this instrument. None of these names duplicate Gallup's 34 registered CliftonStrengths® theme trademarks.

This assessment is not affiliated with, endorsed by, or produced by Gallup, Inc. CliftonStrengths® and the names of its 34 themes are registered trademarks of Gallup, Inc. Any resemblance in structure (strengths-based, theme-based self-assessment) reflects a shared foundation in positive and organizational psychology research, not an attempt to imitate or trade on Gallup's trademarks.

Domain-to-Theme Index

Positive Psychology

1. Horizon, 2. Valuer, 3. Seeker, 4. Spark

Organizational Psychology

5. Helm, 6. Weaver, 7. Voice, 8. Bridge, 22. Resonator, 23. Cultivator

Industrial/Work Psychology

9. Driver, 10. Anchor, 11. Flex, 18. Steward, 19. Fixer

Cognitive Psychology

12. Prism, 13. Mapper, 14. Forge, 24. Visionary, 25. Archivist

Behavioral Psychology

15. Steady, 16. Igniter, 17. Grit, 20. Catalyst, 21. Contender